

Duke Robinson

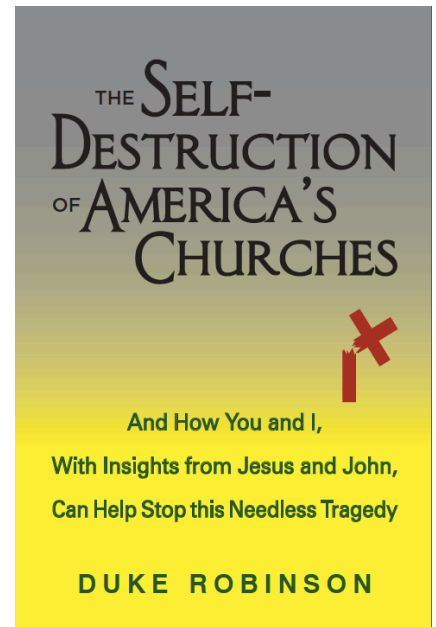

PWR's January 2021

Author of the Month

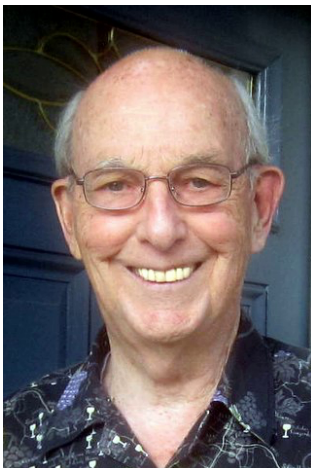

Author of the Month

Duke Robinson now highlights his newest book, THE SELF-DESTRUCTION OF AMERICA'S CHURCHES And How You and I with Insights from Jesus and John, Can Help Stop This Needless Tragedy. It was conceived in his mind in the late 1990s, in response to the New Evangelicalism's rise and marriage to right-wing politics. It hibernated in his brain until 2016, after he had gone on to write the four other books.

Now, after nearly four years of labor, it was born December 17 on Amazon.com. The fourth and last section of this book does deal with the bizarre beliefs and internal contradictions of Evangelicalism, but the book's primary concern is with the underlying disconnection between the real world and all churches today. Duke says he has written it as an offering of light and hope to both churches and the dark world in which we find ourselves now living.

Bio

Duke Robinson has authored six books, beginning with his award-winning TOO NICE FOR YOUR OWN GOOD: How to Stop Making 9 Self-Sabotaging Mistakes (Time Warner, 2000). Between 2011 and 2015, he had published two more non-fiction books focused on what it means to be fully human, a novel, and his memoir. He chaired the steering committee that founded PWR in 2012 and served as its president 2013-2016.

You will find Duke's books on Amazon.com at https://www.amazon.com/author/duke_robinson.

The price of the new book will be cut 25% during January. Questions? Contact him at dukenclaire@gmail.com.
