

Published Writers of Rossmoor to Explore Designing Book Interiors at the February 6, 2016 Meeting

Press Release Written by Barbara Kirbach, PWR Publicity Board Member

Molly Williams, who handles all publishing jobs from start to finish, for Big Hat Press in Lafayette, will discuss the many elements that go into a book's interior design at the Published Writers of Rossmoor's (PWR) monthly meeting, February 6, 2016, from 10 am to noon, in the Fairway Room at Creekside, Rossmoor. All interested Rossmoor residents are invited to attend.

The design elements will include choosing fonts, formatting text, numbering pages, using photos and designing headers and footers and display pages such as chapter openings. Williams will also cover the design of front matter, such as the copyright page and table of contents and back matter such as the appendix or index. Read online or download the presentation click here.

Williams, who has a BS degree in Graphic Communication from Cal Poly, has been working in the publishing industry for about 10 years. At Big Hat Press she handles all the design services required by a client.

Big Hat Press specializes in self-publishing, but is also a general printer and can handle any printing or design job, whether it relates to book publishing or not. It also provides an array of a la carte services such as interior and cover design, e-book creation and printing along with working with Amazon's Create Space.